

Kaitlynn's dance journey began at Elite Academy, where she started training at the age of four and continued until her graduation. During her time at Elite, she achieved significant recognition, including scholarships from notable figures like Tammy Lee Powers and the Wild Rose Dance Arts Association. She successfully completed the Advanced 2 ISTD Ballet exam and the Intermediate ISTD Modern exam.

After completing high school, Kaitlynn pursued further training in dance in various global cities, including Barcelona, Los Angeles, New York, Edmonton, and Vancouver. In New York City, she spent a transformative year at the Joffrey Ballet School under the guidance of Angelica Stiskin. In New York, she also attended renowned studios like Broadway Dance Centre and had the privilege of performing at the prestigious Alvin Ailey Theatre.

In Calgary, Kaitlynn has continued to enrich her dance education by participating in ADAPT Teacher Training, Acrobatic Arts, Alixa Flexibility, and the vibrant dance community at ILLFX. These endeavours reflect her unwavering commitment to honing her skills and staying at the forefront of dance education. Simultaneously, Kaitlynn is pursuing a double major in law & society and dance at the University of Calgary. Alongside her studies and ongoing dance training, she also dedicates her time to volunteering with the Bloom Wellness Collective, where she imparts the joy of dance to individuals of all ages with special needs.

Kaitlynn's passion for dance and her commitment to nurturing the next generation of artists shine brightly as she empowers her students at Elite, helping them realize their full potential.
