

Gretta's dance training took its leap at age 13 after she joined the Alberta Ballet School and its travel company, YYC Dance Project. During this time, Gretta travelled internationally to various conventions and intensives. Some intensives include Stacey Tookey's Camp Protege, as well as The Aria Intensive run by Zeitgeist Dance Theatre's Co-director, Francisco Gella.

Gretta wrapped up her years of competitive dance after being named a Beat Squad Member in 2019, a title given to the top convention competitors in North America, for winning numerous 1st overalls and audition scholarships at U.S conventions. Before beginning her journey as a teacher, Gretta was selected to tour as a choreographer's assistant with Revel Dance Convention. After this inspiring experience, Gretta knew that she wanted to become just like the incredible instructors she had assisted. Since then, she has learned the ins and outs of Acro teaching, completing the Module 3 certifications with Acrobatic Arts and Alixa Flexibility. Most recently, Gretta has created Excel Dance Experience, a brand-new dance convention debuting in Calgary in 2025.

Aside from teaching, Gretta has recently completed her Honours BSc in Psychology at the University of Calgary. She continues to expand her knowledge in this field through her graduate studies program and crisis responder work with the Kids Help Phone and Distress Center.

Gretta is incredibly excited to continue working with the dancers at Elite.
